Murder charged

16-year-old youth pleads innocent in fatal stabbing of youth on bike trail

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A murder charge has been filed against one Granite City youth and obstruction of justice charges have been filed against another city youth and a Venice youth, in connection with the fatal stabbing of an Alton man in Alton late Friday.

Leon Junior Hayes, 16, of the 1700 block of Walnut Street was charged with first-degree murder Tuesday morning.

Hayes allegedly stabbed to death Dwight David Sumner, 21, of Alton, whose body was found early Saturday morning on the Vandalabene Bike Trail in Alton, near the Piasa Bird landmark, a popular hangout for teen-agers.

Sumner was stabbed once in the chest at about 11:30 p.m. Friday and died about an hour later at St. Anthony's Hospital in Alton, said Madison County Coroner Daffas Burke.

Hayes was arrested by Alton police early Saturday morning. At his arraignment Tuesday before Chief Criminal Court Judge Edward C. Ferguson, Hayes pleaded innocent to the charge.

Ferguson set bond at $750,000. Hayes is being held in the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

Anthony Scott Davis, 19, of Venice, was charged with obstruction of justice for allegedly concealing the fact that Hayes had thrown a knife out of the car the men were riding in.

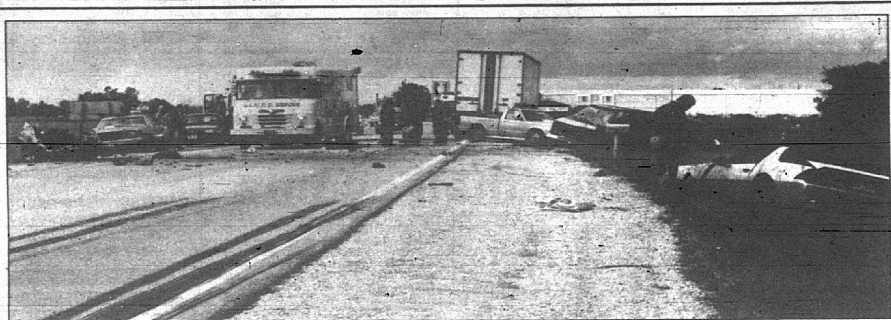

Police said Davis also concealed the fact Davis had put the shirt Hayes was wearing at the time under the car's seat.

Davis pleaded innocent and his bond was set at $35,000.

Also charged with obstructing justice was Christopher A. Logan, 19, of the 2700 block of Dale Avenue.

Police alleged that Logan exchanged clothing with Hayes after the stabbing so Hayes would not be caught.

Logan pleaded innocent and his bond was set at $25,000.

Stolen car chase ends in crash

PONTOON BEACH — A civilian chase of a possible stolen car came to a sudden and spectacular end yesterday afternoon near the entrance to Horseshoe State Park on Illinois 111.

Authorities report a private citizen with a car phone spotted a Chevrolet Camaro he believed had been stolen from a friend in Madison and alerted police and started giving chase. The Camaro, traveling south on Illinois 111 away from Pontoon Beach, then struck a northbound van head-on.

The force of the accident reportedly ejected the driver of the Camaro through the car's 7-top and broke the car in half, separating the front wheels, engine and transmission from the rest of the car.

A northbound tractor-trailer truck then reportedly struck the ejected driver and the front half of the Camaro.

Pontoon Beach and State police arrived at the scene almost immediately after the accident and detained two passengers in the Camaro who reportedly attempted to flee on foot. The driver of the Camaro was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he reportedly underwent surgery.

The driver of the van was reportedly pinned behind the steering wheel of his vehicle and was extracted by members of the Long Lake Fire Department. He was also taken to St. Elizabeth by ambulance.

No charges were reported Thursday morning by either the Pontoon Beach or State police.

Venice aldermen to get role in housing permits

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

VENICE — The City Council decided Tuesday night to require city building inspectors to inform aldermen when they are going to conduct housing inspections in the city.

The mayor agreed to so instruct the building inspectors after several aldermen complained about substandard housing being licensed for occupancy.

Alderman John Henry Williams first brought up the matter and Mayor Tyrone Echols said the problem of substandard housing in Venice is being caused by "slumlords."

City Attorney Casper Nighobossian warned the aldermen that the inspectors were not legally obliged to take the aldermen's recommendations in deciding whether to grant occupancy permits.

In other action, the council voted to give $1,500 to a program that provides wages to volunteers who provide companionship to local senior citizens.

The Senior Companions program, which is administered by Madison County and funded through the federal ACTION program, requires matching grants, which was why the city was approached for funds.

A representative of the Senior Companions program explained to the council that the program provides wages to seven Venice residents who provide the service to between 14 and 18 Venice residents.

Alderman Silver Franklin voted for the allocation, but he complained about giving away money to the program at a time when city workers are "stuck" at the same wage scale and don't get Christmas bonuses — a measure he had proposed last year.

Franklin promised to bring up the Christmas bonuses again this year.

There was some discussion about the city-owned McKinley Bridge, where automatic toll collecting machines have been suffering periodic breakdowns.

The matter was brought up by Alderman Henry Fletcher, who suggested replacing the automatic toll takers with people.

Mayor Echols said that, even if the city was losing some revenue, it would be much more expensive to replace the machines with toll collection personnel.

Echols said some of the bridge's toll collectors had been "slipping." He told the aldermen, "If things don't tighten up, you can start picking some new people to be toll takers."

Granite City Steel may phase out line

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A memo sent last week to employees of Granite City Steel outlined potential long-range plans to phase out the No. 6 galvanizing line, cold mill and pickling line over the next five to 10 years.

But, by terms of the company's labor agreement, the potential move would not cost any jobs, a company spokesman said.

The spokesman, Bob Maxwell, said the Granite City Division's parent company, National Steel Corporation, is considering consolidating its pickling operations at one or both of its two other plants, located in the Detroit and Chicago areas. Any loss of jobs, he said, would be through attrition — the gradual retirement of workers.

Maxwell said the equipment involved at Granite City Steel was the oldest such equipment at any of National Steel's three plants.

Maxwell emphasized that the company's plans were "not cast in stone. Things could change, but you have to plan."

He said the proposed plan would have no effect on the local economy or local subcontractors.

"We'll still be putting out as much steel, or more, as in the past. It would just be of a different type."

He also tried to allay potential fears that the move might be part of a plan to phase out the Granite City plant, he pointed out that the company has just invested $140 million in a second continuous caster here and plans to modernize the Granite City hot strip line during the 1990s.

Buddy W. Davis, director of United Steelworkers of America District 34, could not be reached for comment Wednesday.

BAC Foundation drive gets a running start

BELLEVILLE — Depending on how you look at things, the Belleville Area College Foundation fund drive may have already topped its $50,000 goal.

The kickoff breakfast was held Wednesday.

Pledges and gifts for the 1990-91 academic year already totaled $38,707 by Wednesday, or 73 percent of the $50,000 goal. And, with the addition of multi-year pledges, the number shot far past the $50,000 mark, said BAC Foundation Director Kathy O'Dell.

"We are encouraging people to make multi-year pledges, and based on these pledges we know that the aggregate amount will be over $73,000," O'Dell added.

"I think we anticipate raising much more than $50,000 for this academic year, and we expect the $73,000 in multi-year pledges (See BAC, Page 5A)

Desert Shield soldiers to benefit from school spirit

Students in the fifth-grade class of Mrs. Marilyn Romney at Frohardt Elementary School have determined to help the U.S. military by sponsoring a collection of items requested by American military personnel serving in "Operation Desert Shield." The items, which have been requested by the U.S. military, include: socks, underwear, toothbrushes, deodorant, and other necessities. The items will be collected and sent to the military via the Red Cross.

The public is being asked to make such items to Frohardt School between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 12. The items will be collected and sent to the military via the Red Cross. The items will be collected and sent to the military via the Red Cross.

Time to change clocks, smoke-alarm batteries

ST. LOUIS — Americans will gain an extra hour's sleep Oct. 28 when they pause to change their clocks from daylight-saving time.

But those who take an extra moment to change their smoke alarm and flashlight batteries gain even more: the best protection possible against home fires, authorities report.

Fire officials say the simple annual practice of changing smoke detector batteries is the single most effective, easy and accessible way to curb fire-related deaths and injuries.

Yet, an estimated 50 percent of home smoke alarms now are useless due to old or missing batteries.

Non-working smoke detectors contribute to many of the 6,000 fire-related deaths and 130,000 injuries that occur each year, it is believed. And all too often, it is children and low-income, elderly and disabled people who fall victim to these events.

In an effort to curb recent trends and to underscore the importance of fire safety awareness, the International Association of Fire Chiefs, the American Burn Association and Eveready Battery Company are sponsoring the annual "Change Your Clock, Change Your Battery" program.

The national education campaign encourages the public to change smoke alarm and flashlight batteries in the fall when they change their clocks back to standard time.

The annual reminder serves to emphasize the need for routine smoke detector maintenance. Fire officials say a working smoke alarm can double the chances of surviving a fire by providing critical early warning and escape time.

Warrants served on two men here

Parole warrant served

Curtis Joe Deboise, 27, who gave no address, was arrested at 12:40 p.m. Oct. 4 at Delmar and Niedringhaus avenues on a warrant charging violation of parole. The warrant was issued by the Illinois Department of Corrections. Deboise was transferred to the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

Warrants are served

Clyde Dewayne Wall, 40, of the 3200 block of Kilarney Drive was served two warrants when he reported at the Granite City Police Station at 6:10 p.m. Oct. 5. The warrants charged Wall with battery and criminal damage and trespass to property. He posted $404 bail and was released, pending a hearing.

Con artists find volunteers, not victims, for their scams

Successful con artists likely would be successful in any line of work. That's what makes them so dangerous.

A case in point is a recent census scam in Texas. People went door-to-door, claiming to represent the Census Bureau, telling residents that because they had failed to fill out and return their census forms, they were being fined $50. The "census people" were here to collect it.

It should be needless to say that these people were door-to-door grifters, not Census Bureau officials. It should be needless, but it isn't—because some people actually forked over the money.

(The Census Bureau notes that it does not collect money or levy fines against those who fail to fill out the form.) All its representatives have good identification and if there's any doubt, the census workers willingly wait outside while you check their credentials.)

This census scam was clever. "It has been widely reported that response to the census this year has been very low. This means that while a few of the con artists' marks would claim to have complied, there would be at least some who certainly had not complied."

Those who had not would feel guilty for having failed to fill out their forms. The FBI notes that the most successful scams often are practiced upon those who feel guilty for having done something wrong.

Sylvia Porter

"The 'con artists' weren't too greedy. By levying a fine of $50, they had a reasonable chance of collecting cash. Had they picked a lesser amount, they would have had to knock on more doors, increasing the likelihood they would be caught. If they had levied a higher amount, fewer among their intended prey would have had the cash. Checks create a problem for crooks, not insurmountable problems, but problems nonetheless."

All this suggests a "business plan" as clever as any formulated by a robust, legitimate business. The opportunity—the "market niche"—was identified. The "customers" were identified. A "marketing strategy" was set and carried out.

Whoever had this idea is enterprising enough to be successful in any field.

Criminal psychologists say confidence artists gain some satisfaction from a sense of having beaten the system, which is why some talented ones choose that line of work instead of trying to succeed in legitimate industry.

What con artists do is reprehensible. They most frequently prey upon those who can least afford the loss. But it's critically important to understand the grifters who live by their wits often are highly intelligent.

The Texas census scam illustrates they are quick to seize upon an opportunity and make the most of it. They can come from almost any direction, almost any time, and their stories can be very convincing.

How can you protect yourself? By being very careful. The people who were scammed in Texas probably believed they had failed to do something required by law and had been caught. They probably didn't devote an instant's thought to the fact that it's unlikely the government would send fine collectors door to door, demanding cash.

Anything thing to do when there is an accident and a friend or relative is driving the owner's car. Frequently situations arise where people other than the person named in the policy drive the automobile.

Illinois law provides that the owner's car insurance will apply if another person is using the car with the owner's permission. Furthermore, once this permission is given to a person, coverage under the auto policy is also provided to a subsequent user of the vehicle. Of course, the insurance company always has the right when the policy is issued to state that coverage will not apply if a particular person drives the car.

The reason why the question of insurance coverage becomes important is because in many cases this is the only source of money to repair the damaged automobile. In one case, a father allowed his son to use the family car, but he instructed him never to allow anyone other than a member of the family to use the vehicle. THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED

The question sometimes arises as to whether a person's automobile insurance will apply when there is an accident and a friend or relative is driving the owner's car. Frequently situations arise where people other than the person named in the policy drive the automobile.

Illinois law provides that the owner's car insurance will apply if another person is using the car with the owner's permission. Furthermore, once this permission is given to a person, coverage under the auto policy is also provided to a subsequent user of the vehicle. Of course, the insurance company always has the right when the policy is issued to state that coverage will not apply if a particular person drives the car.

The reason why the question of insurance coverage becomes important is because in many cases this is the only source of money to repair the damaged automobile. In one case, a father allowed his son to use the family car, but he instructed him never to allow anyone other than a member of the family to use the vehicle. Subsequently, the boy took the car to a party in Indiana. At the party, he traded cars with another young man, who proceeded to drive the family car and wreck it. The insurance company for the family attempted to argue that there was no insurance coverage in this situation because the son was the only person who had permission to drive the car.

The Court in this case ruled that the driver was insured under the policy because the son had given permission to the friend to use the family car. The Court found that once the father gave initial permission to his son to use the car, the son in turn could permit someone else to use the vehicle and still be covered by the family's auto insurance.

In another case, the insurance company in the original policy provided that liability coverage would not apply to an accident occurring while the car was driven by the eighteen year old son. This was included in the policy because of his past driving record. The son drove the car anyway and had an accident which resulted in injury to the people in the other vehicle. The injured people obtained a $10,000 judgment against the father and son, and they had to pay it out of their own pocket, since insurance coverage did not apply in this situation.

Community band begins year

The Granite City Community Band began its fourth season in September with a rehearsal at the high school band room.

Terry Van was introduced as the band's new conductor. Van, who is originally from Granite City, currently resides in St. Peters, Mo. He graduated from Granite City schools and many of his family members still live here, including his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Van, and his brother, Bruce.

Van has 22 years of experience directing bands and is currently the assistant director at Francis Howell High School in St. Charles, Mo.

Van is also a member of Trombonanza, the world's only all-trombone marching band.

He is the director of UMI (United Musical Images), a regional community band that holds concerts twice a year at SIUE. UMI will perform a Halloween concert on Oct. 22.

Van is also a member of Stan Fornasewski's band and the Van family band called Kaleidoscope.

His wife, Leilana, who plays the flute, also joined the Community Band.

Following the rehearsal, a board meeting was held to discuss plans for the 1990-91 season. Plans are being made for concerts, fund raising and membership drives. A bake sale was held Sept. 29 at the Granite City Schnucks market.

Members of the board are Art LaVelle, president, Jim Morris, vice president, Billie Nunn, secretary, Wayne Rice, treasurer, and Linda Green, publicity and advertising chairman. Kathy Morris was selected to be the new librarian.

Anyone wishing more information about the band may attend rehearsals, held every Wednesday at the high school band room, or contact Art LaVelle at 797-1124 or Linda Green at 797-1161.

Wine auction this Saturday

The St. Louis Conservatory And Schools for the Arts (CASA) will hold its fourth wine auction and party Oct. 13 at the Adam's Mark Hotel in downtown St. Louis.

Black tie festivities begin at 6 p.m. with a tasting of premiere wines offered by selected wineries and accompanied by hors d'oeuvres.

At 7 p.m., Selkirk's Mark O. Howald will auction off an array of prizes, including vintage wines from private collections, fur pieces, a home decorating seminar and an Oriental rug.

Dinner will be served at 8:30, followed by live music by Galaxy. Tickets at the door are $100 per person and include valet parking at the Fourth Street entrance. For more information, Lynne Caldwell can be called at (314) 863-3033.

Senior night at Zoo Oct. 17

Senior Citizen Night in the Living World at the St. Louis Zoo will be held from 5:30 to 8 on Wednesday, Oct. 17. The event is free except for the dinner.

The event, which begins after the Living World closes to the public, is exclusively for adults over the age of 60. Reservations are suggested, by calling (314) 781-0900; ext. 330, especially for the buffet dinner.

The dinner will be served at $8 per plate, plus tax, in the Painted Giraffe Cafe from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

The two animal-exhibit halls can be toured from 5:30 to 8 p.m. The Zoo's movie, "A World Alive," will be shown at 6 p.m. A history of the Zoo, where it's been and where it's going, will be presented in a slide show at 7 p.m.

Magician added to menu

GRANITE CITY — Some unexplainable things are happening at Charlie's Restaurant these days. Charles Hester, owner of Charlie's, has employed a magician to entertain his dinner guests on Thursdays from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Charlie's is located at 5240 Nameoki Road (Illinois 203) near Interstate 270.

The magician's name is Trebor (that's Robert spelled backward) and he moves from table to table providing three to eight minutes of personal and unique entertainment.

Before leaving the table, Trebor presents a gift to the children and ladies. He sculpts them a balloon animal or a "Teenage Mutant Ninja Sword," compliments of Charlie's Restaurant.

The magic people see on television and the stage is quite unbelievable, but when magic is done right within a few feet of you, it really is unexplainable, Hester reports.

Some of Charlie's guests have been so amazed that they have commented that they will be coming back to see the same trick performed again.

Some guests don't quite know what to think when Trebor approaches their table. He welcomes them to the restaurant and announces that he's the magician at Charlie's.

At this point, sheepish grins begin to appear. Some people seem unsure about whether to believe him or not. Once the brief show is concluded, however, his claim to being a magician is confirmed and even the most skeptical are amused by it all.

Trebor has been performing magic all over the country for the past 10 years. Since starting Trebor Promotions in April 1989, he and other magicians he employs have entertained in 10 area restaurants. Trebor also employs clowns, jugglers, singers and a host of other entertainers.

New pact for bus drivers

By Roger McGrath
Correspondent

Bi-State bus drivers finally have a labor agreement but union president Bob Bartlett isn't happy with the terms.

The two-year pact, retroactive to March 1, "is not a good contract" because it doesn't increase drivers' wages, said Bartlett, president of Local 788 of the Amalgamated Transit Union.

Full-time drivers for the Bi-State Development Agency, operator of the region's public bus company, earn $13 an hour; part-time drivers earn about $7 an hour, he said.

Bi-State's 1,300 drivers last received a pay raise about a year ago when a 25-cent an hour increase was called for under the old three-year contract, Bartlett said.

Union members approved the new contract by a vote of 317 to 37 on Oct. 3. Bi-State commissioners approved it Tuesday (Oct. 8).

On Tuesday the agency also announced the layoff of 79 employees.

The layoff decision was mandated by a $3 million budget shortfall in the current fiscal year, said John Leary, executive director of Bi-State.

The wage reopener cuts both directions, he said.

The length of the pact, two years instead of three, "recognizes it is difficult to predict what is going to happen in the next three years," he said.

Under the new contract, drivers will be paid a $250 bonus for approving the agreement; another $250 will be paid next July.

The contract is retroactive to March 1, when the previous agreement expired.

Bi-State and union officials extended the contract at least half a dozen times while negotiations continued.

The chief point of contention was Bi-State's no-wage-increase position, said Bartlett and Thomas Sehr, deputy general manager for Bi-State administration.

"It took so long because the agency had very, very limited resources to deal with wage or benefit improvements," Sehr said.

The contract does include a reopening clause under which either the union or the bus company could ask, prior to March 1, 1991, that wage levels be renegotiated.

Lunch plan helps many, since 1946

GRANITE CITY — The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that more than 91,000 school cafeterias across the country are celebrating the 44th anniversary of the national school lunch program during National School Lunch Week—on Oct. 14-20.

Enacted by Congress in 1946, the program provides 24 million school children each day with balanced meals, nearly half of them free or at low cost.

The USDA provides both cash and commodities.

"School Lunch: A Healthy Choice" is the theme of this year's observance, which emphasizes the wide variety of healthy foods available at school cafeterias.

The dietary guidelines for Americans which apply to children are:

- Eat a variety of foods.
- Maintain desirable weight.
- Avoid too much fat, saturated fat and cholesterol.
- Eat foods with adequate starch and fiber.
- Avoid too much sugar.
- Avoid too much sodium.

The American School Food Service Association has selected menus to celebrate National School Lunch Week, designed to meet these objectives.

Calories, color, texture, seasoning and size of foods have been considered. Recipes were selected from the updated USDA Recipes for School Food Service, Program Aid 1371. The menus are:

- Oven-baked chicken nuggets, french potatoes or onion-battered french fries, seasoned mixed vegetables or crisp lettuce salad, wheat roll, chilled pineapple or fresh grapes, milk or.
- Chef salad with croissants, Julienned ham and cheese, soft pretzel or wheat roll, fresh grapes or pineapple, choice of dressings, milk.
- To avoid too much fat, saturated fat and cholesterol in foods, the USDA recommends that "skinless," unbreaded chicken nuggets or fresh chicken be used.
- To reduce sodium, the chicken should be seasoned with pepper, paprika and/or garlic powder. Potatoes and vegetables should not have butter or salt added. French fries should be oven-baked and rolls should not be brushed with butter. Pineapple and other fruits should be fresh or packed in unsweetened juices.
- Nearly 3,900 schools in Illinois will be serving the suggested menus and/or planning other activities such as health fairs, games and posters to celebrate National School Lunch Week.
- These Illinois schools received more than $124 million in federal funds and more than 35 million pounds of commodities valued at approximately $24 million last year.

Good news is arriving fast

Despite talk of a recession, news that is much more upbeat seems to be arriving with regularity. For example, look at the front pages of the last three issues in September.

Granite City Journal, Wednesday, Sept. 26: Ground was broken for a 25,000-square-foot plant in the Northgate Industrial Park. It will serve as the new headquarters for Gateway Packaging, a five-year-old company now in a 6,500-square-foot former dairy building at 2165 Benton St. Roger D. Miller, Gateway president, said the new plant will cost $2 million, including equipment, and is to be ready by Jan. 1 to produce paper, film and foil lids for food service products.

Granite City Press-Record, Thursday, Sept. 27: Holland-Hinrichs Construction will build a new PVO Foods processing plant and offices at 19th and West 20th streets. The $2 million, 71,000-square-foot structure will include 62,000 feet for processing and storage and 9,000 feet of laboratory and office space. The plant will process vegetable oils for the food industry and will create 100 new jobs.

Granite City Press-Record Sunday Home Journal, Sept. 30: American Steel Foundries will hire 200 more production workers to staff a second shift. 100 will begin work Oct. 15 and another 100 by mid-December. The employment total will rise from 250 to 450. American Steel reopened here in June 1989 after being closed for six years. The plant makes cast-steel side frames and bolsters, which form the trucks (undercarriages) of railroad freight cars.

Press-Record Sunday Home Journal, Sept. 30: Planning for St. Elizabeth Medical Center's new Medical Office Building downtown is on schedule. The 37,500-square-foot structure in the 2000 block of Madison Avenue is to be connected to the medical center by an overhead walkway. Occupancy already has been assured for 60 percent of the new office space.

Such announcements and the kind of news they make a chamber of commerce might proud — all of which serves as a timely reminder that the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce is celebrating its 50th anniversary tonight.

Speed up tax-sale process

Among the decisions to be made by voters in the Nov. 6 general election is a Blue Ballot proposal to amend Section 8 of Article IX of the Illinois State Constitution.

The ballot calls for "yes" or "no" on authorizing the General Assembly to reduce the redemption period after tax sales (from two years to one year) on delinquent commercial, industrial, vacant non-farm and large multifamily residential properties (seven units or more).

There would be no effect on single-family homes, farmland or apartment buildings containing six units or less.

Goals of the proposed change are to accelerate return of tax-delinquent real estate to the tax rolls, reduce the opportunity for abuse by owners of delinquent property, and encourage community preservation and rehabilitation.

Delinquent property owners unfairly deprive local governments and schools of millions of dollars in tax revenue each year. This increases the tax burden on those who do pay their taxes. If tax-delinquent properties could be returned to the tax rolls more quickly, it would facilitate payment of taxes or transfer of ownership to persons who will pay the taxes.

As tax authorities view it, "It is possible for a property owner to avoid paying taxes on his property for three or more years before losing the property. During this period, an owner can continue to extract income from the property even though the taxes go unpaid. Many of these properties are also allowed to deteriorate, or are abandoned. The amendment would reduce the ability of the tax-delinquent owner to take unfair advantage of the system."

"The health and vitality of communities throughout Illinois are dependent upon preserving existing housing and encouraging the upkeep or rehabilitation of commercial and small industrial properties."

"Because it is difficult and time-consuming to obtain title to tax-delinquent property, potential buyers are discouraged from purchasing and rehabilitating such property. Moreover, the longer a property is allowed to deteriorate, the more costly it is to restore. The proposed amendment would reduce these barriers to preservation of our communities."

Opponents say shorter redemption time would force some owners to either pay up or "choose between losing their property or keeping it in good repair." But a year ought to be enough time, following a tax sale, to pay the overdue taxes and prevent the transfer of title to a new owner.

These rules apply to real estate delinquent at least one year. A six-month redemption period currently exists for property already delinquent five years, and that would be changed to six months after two years of non-payment.

Fantasia still a fantastic film

By Bill Winter

It's not getting older; it's just getting better.

That could be applied to Walt Disney's 1940 feature-length cartoon, "Fantasia," which has been revived on its 50th anniversary with greater color intensity and improved sound reproduction.

Artists used their abilities and imaginations to create visual fantasies while classical music was performed by the Philadelphia Orchestra under the baton of Leopold Stokowski.

The film wasn't initially successful but it is now. I saw it first when I was a child, and the theater was full of youngsters last week. But I appreciated it much more the second time around.

"The music obviously isn't new; some of it dates back several centuries. But it doesn't seem to turn anyone off because only real musical gems were selected. Some of the music, in fact, provided the melodies for a number of popular songs, with lyrics added long after the notes were written."

There is much to interest grownups, but also much to enchant young viewers. Mickey Mouse is there along with a number of unknown but instantly lovable characters — and even synchronized and synopated blobs, shapes and images that are check-off of personality.

One might almost think that the drawings and story plots were developed first, with appropriate musical passages then added, but exactly the reverse was true.

The music was chosen and then the non-speaking "scripts" were formulated, unquaintly matching forms and lights, patterns and people, actual and mythological animals, with all movements and actions suggested by the rhythms and tunes and moods.

Not only were the artists brilliant, but also the composers, who had provided a rich array of material to be "mined."

There is no way to adequately document the impact, inspiration and excellence cannot be missed if one visits the theater with an open mind — prepared to listen, look and enjoy. Don't wait long, because Disney's successors have followed only a "limited engagement."

I hope they don't retire it for too long, however. I patiently waited a half-century but wouldn't want to wait another 50 years to see it again.

Columbus Day 1990: A world swept by change

As we celebrate Columbus Day 1990, our world is undergoing changes as rapid and dramatic as those which swept the Western world as a result of the epic voyages of Columbus and the voyages of those who came after him.

Five centuries ago, the minds and imaginations of people were set afire by the thought that a New World had been opened up for exploration and settlement; for the spread of religious faith; for the pursuit of a new and better way of life.

Today, minds and imaginations are scarcely less stirred by the spectacle of nations and peoples of the Old World, Eastern and Central Europe, awakening from decades of Communist oppression, reclaiming their liberties and rights — to justice, political freedom of worship, self-determination, a decent life.

Our guest

Is there a lesson here for Columbus Day? I believe there is.

The process set in motion by Columbus has paid handsome dividends over the centuries. True, the explorers and colonizers who followed Columbus included sinners as well as saints. There are episodes subsequent to his discovery that we would rather not remember, yet cannot afford to forget.

Nevertheless, what Columbus began — a great movement and interaction not only of persons but of cultural values and spiritual ideals has proved by and large to be a noble expansion of the human spirit itself.

Out of it have grown political, economic, cultural and, yes, religious institutions which are in many respects the envy of, and the model for, the entire world.

Democracy, responsible free enterprise, human and civil rights, freedom to worship God according to one's conscience — it is these which now, by the power of their example rather than the force of arms, have emerged triumphant from the decades-long contest with the atheistic ideology of Marxism and the heavy hand of totalitarian dictatorships.

In this Columbus Day, therefore, we look eastward with admiration to Poland, Lithuania, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, the Ukraine, and the rest of what not so long ago seemed a solid, even monolithic, Communist bloc.

And we watch with excitement as yet another great rebirth of the human spirit takes place, comparable to its own terms that began when Columbus first set foot on these shores nearly five centuries ago.

No one then knew what the future would hold, but everyone soon realized that a new era in human history had begun.

Today, too, no one can say precisely what the future holds for the brave people of Eastern Europe who are reuniting liberty's torch after a darkness. Nevertheless, hardly anyone doubts that this, too, marks the start of a new era.

May we who are richly blessed, by the fruits of a heritage which we sometimes take for granted, pause this Columbus Day to thank God for our good fortune.

We pray that God will bestow His blessings no less richly upon the nations and peoples of Eastern Europe as they launch forth upon a voyage of self-renewal and self-discovery.

A voyage that is as hazardous, perhaps, but also as full of hope and faith as that bold voyage on uncharted seas for which we salute Christopher Columbus.

More heroes at the fatal fire

To the editor:

I am a 16-year-old and the newspaper article about the fire in the 1700 block of Cleveland disturbed me. Since I was at the scene from the time the fire broke out until 3:30 Wednesday morning, I think I should tell you the real truth about what happened that night.

Dave Clark and Ricky Holland were walking down to the corner and suddenly yelled back for Tracey Clark and Angelo Clark. They started running to see what was going on and one called back to my mother to call the fire department.

My mother and I stopped to tell Angelo's wife that something was going on and I went ahead of them afterward.

When I got there, the two houses on the corner were in flames. These four guys were breaking windows and kicking down doors to get inside.

Two of the guys were throwing bricks or whatever they could at the neighbors' windows, waking them up.

Tracey cut his hand badly trying to reach the baby. Angelo and Ricky injured their knees kicking doors down.

Ricky came face to face with the infant but could not reach him before the window popped. We heard screams from the infant but nothing from the father. I almost lost my mother because she heard the baby scream and went toward the house. I tackled her.

Dave Clark got into the house but came back out after a few minutes because of the smoke and flames. He was coughing back. He also dragged one guy out of his car because a live electrical wire was flopping next to them.

I am very proud of these four men because they sacrificed their own safety for people they didn't even know.

I know all kids need a hero, but I feel lucky that I have four of them. These men are special. They risked their lives to save someone and I know that they are going to remember that baby's screams for the rest of their lives.

They did their best. They saved eight other people and feel bad about not being able to rescue the other two. They didn't even have to try at all but they did.

I will always look up to them for trying. That's all anyone could ask of them. I know if they would have had a little more time they would have saved everyone.

The four guys don't want anything, but I think they deserve to be acknowledged. These were the real heroes of the whole situation.

I think these guys should be honored in some way. If someone would risk their life for someone else, they deserve a trophy or something, not just have their names in the paper. They deserve more, a lot more.

Petitioning is citizens' right

To the editor:

On Oct. 2 a letter was circulated in West Madison stating that anyone signing a petition against approving the reopening of a tavern located at 800 Jackson St. could be sued for libel or slander.

At the time the petition was being circulated, none of the signatories knew the license holder was Mrs. Lolita Jenkins. We all know Mrs. Jenkins to be a respectable and honorable person.

Nothing contained in the petition referred to Mrs. Jenkins. The petitioners were merely exercising their constitutional right to petition their government.

There was no intent to besmirch or vilify Mrs. Jenkins or any member of her family.

Every citizen has a constitutional right to petition their government to redress any grievance they may have, without fear of threat or intimidation.

No judge in his right mind would hear a case opposing the right to petition the government. Citizens have nothing to fear when they exercise their rights, including signing a petition for or against any given matter.

I hope the citizens of West Madison will continue to inform the government of their concerns without fear of reprisals or intimidation.

Wetlands are for the birds

To the editor:

Wetlands are for the birds, not for the proposed landfill south of Horseshoe Lake.

The Corps of Engineers should not issue a landfill permit for a wetlands trash dump.

The conservation area attracts thousands of migratory birds. Fox, raccoons and muskrats move through the area.

Birds are both attractive and useful. Birds may drop seeds to plant new trees. Others may eat an insect diet that will help control the insect population.

Bird watching is a popular hobby for many Americans.

On the other hand, the proposed landfill might pollute the wetlands with chemical wastes from the trash reclamation plant.

The developer does not yet have $12 million for the trash plant. Nor does he have the millions in escrow to care for the landfill for 20 years after it closes.

In conclusion, we need to redesign our lifestyles, redesign our technology, and recycle our waste rather than build another short-lived, long-polluting, wetlands landfill.

Solution for S&L debt given

To the editor:

I am writing to you about the savings and loan scandal.

They keep saying it's going to cost the taxpayers so many billions of dollars. My question is: Why?

Why not take all the men and women who were responsible for S & L failures, and arrest them.

Then confiscate their belongings, such as homes, cars, boats, jewelry and bank accounts, like they do drug dealers.

Then, sell the stuff and pay back the depositors. Why should the taxpayer pay for their sins?

It's just that simple.

50 years of community service

Chamber holds historic annual dinner

By Andy Slering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — When members of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce met tonight at Sunset Hills Country Club to celebrate 50 years of organizational existence, they can reflect on past accomplishments — and failures.

Some highlights of the past:

• In 1940, the year 150 members came together to form the group, members organized the first Community Chest, a forerunner of the United Fund and, later, the United Way. The first chamber president was B.F. Hohl, former Ford auto dealer.

• In 1957, the chamber took the lead in preparations to submit Granite City's application to the National Municipal League and Look magazine. The city was one of 11 so designated for 1959, out of almost 100 entries.

• In the 1940s the chamber successfully lobbied the U.S. Corps of Engineers to build the Chain of Rocks Canal and establish the local harbor, which later led to the creation of the Tri-Cities Regional Port District.

• But some topics of discussion from years past remain unaccomplished today.

R.C. Bush, current chamber executive vice president, checked some old minutes and reported that a hot topic in 1940 was establishment of a civilian airport in Metro East. "It was rejected as not being feasible," Bush said.

It is still a burning topic; the chamber has been active in promoting Scott Air Force Base joint civilian-military use. Also, creation of a Lakeside Airport authority will be on the Nov. 6 ballot in the Quad City and Collinsville areas.

Carl A. Ranft, at 74 the oldest living past president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber, recalls that during his term, in 1954-55, a committee was appointed to work with the Granite City administration to alleviate traffic problems on Nameeki Road.

"That's still a problem today," Ranft chuckled.

On the other hand, the chamber worked with Venice to bring about the eventual construction of the Broadway underpass, where trains used to hold up auto and truck traffic for 45 minutes at a time, Ranft recalled.

Ranft also remembers that it was during his term as president that the chamber inaugurated the annual Business, Industry and Education Day. Members of industry would visit schools one year to spend a day talking about their businesses to students. In alternating years, students would visit various industries.

Ranft remembers the so-called BIE Days as useful and deserving of resurrection.

"Industrial development was the main thing back then," Ranft said. It still is. The chamber helped Mayor Von Dee Cruse lobby AMSTED Industries to get the American Steel Foundries plant here reopened last year.

The list of past chamber presidents includes three members of the Karandjeff family — Henry, his son, Ernest, and Ernest's son, Drew.

Officials expect at least 15 former chamber presidents to attend tonight's anniversary meeting. Among them are the Press-Record's own Bill Winter, local dentist Dr. Al Triand, Granite City Glass Company's Jack Dempsey, Granite Sheet Metal's Don Partney Jr. and outgoing chamber president Ron Daine of Illinois Power Co.

Daine's predecessor, Carl E. Mathias, also led the chamber, as did Mathias' predecessor as Illinois Power manager, Edwin G. Schmitt.

This year's new president, Jack Lee, president of the National Bank in Madison, will speak after his installation.

Other newly elected officers to be installed are First Vice President Ben Johannpeter, manager of compensation for Granite City Steel, Second Vice President Paul Kackewicz, executive vice president and chief operating officer at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, and Treasurer Jim Seiz, president of Guardian Savings Bank. Linda Holder will be installed as president of the Women's Division of the chamber.

The invocation and benediction will be delivered by the Rev. Dale Edwards, pastor of First Assembly of God in Granite City. The John Fornaszewski Band will entertain.

The guest speaker will be Sir Philip Richardson, a British economist and futurist who is in the United States on a fact-finding tour for Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

People's lawyer," having filed many lawsuits and motions to protect citizens' interests, especially those involving consumers, veterans, senior citizens and disabled persons.

Hartigan served as lieutenant governor and also has had careers in law, business and finance. He and his wife are the parents of four children.

Hartigan "is emphasizing 'making government accountable' and has focused on education, drug abuse, crime and blocking legislative pay raises."

EDGAR, 44, of Charleston, was appointed in 1981 to fill the secretary of state vacancy created when Democrat Alan Dixon was elected to the U.S. Senate. Dixon and Edgar are the only candidates ever to win all 102 counties in an election.

Elected as secretary of state in 1982 and 1986, Edgar has led a crackdown on drunk driving, fostered traffic safety, campaigned for literacy programs and auto liability insurance, and secured expanded funding for library construction and services. Edgar was a key aide to leaders in both the Illinois House and Senate in 1980-76. He was elected as state representative in 1976 and 1978. His first election success, however, was at Eastern Illinois University, where he became student body president.

He served from April 1979 to December 1980 as Gov. James Thompson's director of legislative affairs. Edgar is married and has two children.

MANY ILLINOISANS can remember only one governor of their state.

Thompson won the first of his four elections to that office in 1976 and is retiring undefeated after 14 years. (One of his terms was shortened to shift governor votes to non-presidential election years.)

Thompson is rooting for Edgar, traditionally the top GOP vote-getter, but Democrats have formed a formidable ticket and, some believe, could sweep all but one office.

You will decide, in 26 days.

Kowalczyk's name son; clubs meet

Kathy Dohnal covers the Madison-Venice scene for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 877-1096.

Terry and Janet Kowalczyk are announcing the birth of their first child, a son, born at St. John's Mercy Medical Center, St. Louis, on Sept. 29, 1990. The infant weighed 7 pounds, 7 ounces and has been named Steven Edward.

He is the grandson of Ed and Theresa Kowalczyk of Madison and Lee Hizer of Charleston, S.C., and the great-grandson of Mrs. Anna Kowalczyk of Madison.

Ruth Class of the First Baptist Church in Madison met at the home of Margie Lewis on Sept. 25. The meeting was opened with prayer by Maxine Ducas.

Plans were made for a cake and ice cream social to be served to the residents of the Madison County Nursing Home in Edwardsville.

Election of class officers were held with the following elected: Altha Lasson, president; Mary Moore, secretary; Fay Little, treasurer and Fanny Grace, class teacher.

The devotional, titled "Heaven — What is It?" was given by Lorretta Hill.

Pat Knapp, a guest, sang "Heaven is a Wonderful Place." Also attending was Lyle Emery.

Cherrie Harp, president of Madison Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary 7451, presided at the monthly meeting. Chaplain Patsy Hirtman led the prayer and the pledge of allegiance.

Reports from the previous meeting were read by Secretary Eleanor Amour and a financial report was given by Margie Brannan. It was agreed to sponsor a car wash on Saturday, Oct. 13.

Also approved was a contribution for a gift for Lorraine Menon who is retiring as district president.

Guests at the meeting were Florence Richardson and Carol Helga from the 12th District Post 5691 Auxiliary, who brought greetings from the National President Laura Hansen.

Others present were Mabel Cochran, Jeanie Scholman, Dorothy Chumko, Mary Ann Dollar, Carol Hamm, Barb Vrabec, Michele Schmitt, Tiffany Dohar, and Amanda Dollar and Christine Green, who was accepted as a new member.

The Old-Time-Sake group met on Tuesday, Oct. 2, at Ralph and Charlie's Restaurant for a get-together. Got-well bouquets of flowers were presented to Gerry Mendez and Kathy Dohnal.

Others attending were Mary First, Linda Holder, Selma Bucatch, Connie Grupas and Pat Lalich.

TV debating may help decide close 1990 election, just as it did in '60

In 1960, Democrat John F. Kennedy outbought Republican Richard Nixon in a televised debate and went on to win the presidential election.

Those who didn't see the debate but listened on radio generally said Nixon performed better than he did on TV. But Nixon's appearance and worried expression on TV helped decide the close vote. Illinois and Chicago were pivotal factors.

Will history repeat itself after Democrat Neil Hartigan's smooth performance in a televised debate Oct. 4 in Chicago?

JIM EDGAR, the Republican nominee for governor, seemed at ease while Hartigan was vigorous and self-assured, most of the political experts said.

I didn't have an opportunity to watch it but will try to see their second and final verbal battle Oct. 18 to be telecast from Springfield.

As a lawyer and as attorney general, Hartigan has become a polished speaker.

EDGAR EVIDENTLY has not yet perfected his style in handling camera cues, but radio listeners gave him high marks.

Just as Nixon did three decades ago, Edgar started the campaign with a big lead in the public opinion polls.

And as Kennedy did, Hartigan has fought hard and appears to be closing the gap. This isn't a prediction, however; nearly everyone thinks the margin on Nov. 6 could be razor-thin.

PHILOSOPHICAL and practical issues separate the Illinois rivals, but both are blessed with considerable charm and state office experience. Whoever wins, the state will have a seasoned, savvy leader.

Nevertheless, the outcome will mean a lot to many people and there will be tear-stained faces as well as bright smiles on election night.

Hartigan probably will do well in this heavily Democratic area. Edgar asserts that all citizens will benefit if some degree of balance is maintained; with

Bill Winter

Democrats controlling both the House and Senate, Illinoisans need a Republican in the executive mansion, he contends.

THE LEADING ISSUE is the two-year (1989-91) one-fifth increase in the state's personal and corporate income tax. Edgar would favor continuing it, citing the cost of schools and other essential services.

Hartigan would fight to end the temporary tax. He would cut "wasteful spending" by the state and find enough money for education, he says.

Critics say that, at best, this would deprive non-school programs of vital funding; at worst, the financial squeeze could harm all aspects of state government. Proponents say there really is a lot of fat and bureaucracy at Springfield, and that Hartigan is right in worrying about taxpayers' home budgets as well as the "bloated" state budget.

WHOSE STRATEGY is best? The election will decide that; the places where we vote are the only polls that count.

Clearly, the tax argument is blurring usual political lines a bit; not everyone in a political party feels the same way about the appropriate level of taxation and the proper amount of governmental services.

The tax wrangle is much more complex than this simplified discussion can indicate. Also, there is no valid comparison with three decades ago; these are 1990s men. Neither is living in the past. Both have long lists of awards and leadership roles.

HARTIGAN, 52, of Rogers Park, has been the state's chief legal officer for eight years.

He also views himself as "the people's lawyer," having filed many lawsuits and motions to protect citizens' interests, especially those involving consumers, veterans, senior citizens and disabled persons.

Hartigan served as lieutenant governor and also has had careers in law, business and finance. He and his wife are the parents of four children.

Hartigan "is emphasizing 'making government accountable' and has focused on education, drug abuse, crime and blocking legislative pay raises."

EDGAR, 44, of Charleston, was appointed in 1981 to fill the secretary of state vacancy created when Democrat Alan Dixon was elected to the U.S. Senate. Dixon and Edgar are the only candidates ever to win all 102 counties in an election.

Elected as secretary of state in 1982 and 1986, Edgar has led a crackdown on drunk driving, fostered traffic safety, campaigned for literacy programs and auto liability insurance, and secured expanded funding for library construction and services. Edgar was a key aide to leaders in both the Illinois House and Senate in 1980-76. He was elected as state representative in 1976 and 1978. His first election success, however, was at Eastern Illinois University, where he became student body president.

He served from April 1979 to December 1980 as Gov. James Thompson's director of legislative affairs. Edgar is married and has two children.

MANY ILLINOISANS can remember only one governor of their state.

Thompson won the first of his four elections to that office in 1976 and is retiring undefeated after 14 years. (One of his terms was shortened to shift governor votes to non-presidential election years.)

Thompson is rooting for Edgar, traditionally the top GOP vote-getter, but Democrats have formed a formidable ticket and, some believe, could sweep all but one office.

You will decide, in 26 days.

Mr. and Mrs.
George Klein

GC couple marks 50th

Mr. and Mrs. George Klein of Granite City celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sept. 23, 1940.

A reception was held at the Franklin Room in St. Louis, which is operated by their son-in-law, Gary Ballowe of St. Louis.

Klein and the former Velma Miller were married on Sept. 21, 1940, at the Presbyterian Church in Clayton, Mo., by the Rev. Alvin Couley. Their attendants were Mrs. Klein's brother and sister-in-law, Robert and Mable Miller.

Klein is retired from the National City Stockyards, where he worked for 45 years. He is an Army veteran, having served in the South Pacific during World War II. Mrs. Klein is a homemaker and was a community volunteer.

They are parents of four children, Linda Ballowe and Randy Klein, both of St. Louis, David Klein of Sorrento and Darla Lewis of Glen Carbon.

They have 11 grandchildren. The celebration was hosted by the couple's children and began when a limousine arrived at the Klein home to take the honorees to the Franklin Room, where their guests were waiting.

The 250 guests enjoyed a buffet dinner and danced to the music of the Joey James Orchestra.

Family members present included: Gary and Linda Ballowe, Randy and Margaret Klein, David and Beverly Klein and Dwight and Darla Lewis; Klein's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Loran Klein of Horseshoe Bend, Ark., and his sister, Kathryn Smith of Tallula, Ill.; and Mrs. Klein's sisters, Marie Dunston of Alton and Flora Raymond of Mitchell.

Other guests from out-of-town, included: Mrs. James Ferguson, Plainfield, Ill.; Mrs. Joe Kasteik and daughter, Jody, Joliet, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith and family, Petersburg, Ill.; Troy Smith and family of Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Smith and son, Nathan, of Town and Country, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Tor Kalifat and daughter, Tammy, of Naples, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller and his mother, Mable Miller, Mount Vernon; Wilbourn Weeks and family of Gasconade, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Myers and family, Mountain Home, Ark.; and Mr. and Mrs. John Hickman of Norris City, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs.
Jack Colbert

J. Colberts marks 40th

Jack and Lucy Colbert celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Sept. 23, 1950.

A reception was held in their home at 645 Chouteau Avenue, Mitchell, hosted by their children.

Colbert and the former Lucille Carver were married at the county courthouse in Piggott, Ark. on Sept. 23, 1950, by a justice of the peace.

He is employed at American Steel Foundries. Mrs. Colbert is a homemaker and volunteers much of her time to her church. She also sings each week with the Silver Strings at area nursing homes.

They are parents of four children, Theresa Kelly of Granite City, Tom Colbert of Mitchell, Ed Colbert of Edwardsville and Missy Hickman of Madison.

There are six grandchildren. Cake, punch, coffee and soft drinks were served to 84 guests, including three generations of Jack Colbert's family and four generations of Lucy Colbert's family.

The outdoor reception was moved inside due to the cool weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Hutchison

Hutchisons observe 50th

Theron and Opal Hutchison of Granite City celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with family and friends during an open house at the Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church on Sept. 29.

The event was given in honor of the couple by their children, Danny and Carlene Hutchison of Moro and Larry and Cheryl Hutchison of Granite City, and their grandchildren, Scott and Stephanie Hutchison of Gallipolis, Ohio, Tim and Martha Hutchison of Greensboro, N.C., and Todd and Jeff Hutchison of Granite City.

The couple was married on Oct. 5, 1940, in Cadiz, Ky. They have lived in Granite City for the past 38 years.

Hutchison retired in 1977 from the National Lead Steel Packaging Co. His wife is a homemaker.

Although aware of the open house, the anniversary couple was surprised by arrangements made for a wedding ceremony in which they renewed their vows for the next 50 years.

The Rev. Norman Sloan led Theron and Opal Hutchison and their guests through the renewal ceremony.

The honorees took part in the traditional "cutting of the cake" and enjoyed the remainder of the evening with their guests.

Mitchell PTA sets potluck for Oct. 18

Mitchell PTA will host a potluck dinner in the Mitchell School gymnasium on Thursday, Oct. 18, at 6:30 p.m.

A representative from the Granite City Library District will be on hand to discuss the Nov. 6 ballot issue on the library's Bookmobile Service.

Residents interested in presenting an opposing view, please contact Pam Miller at 931-5592 to make arrangements.

Locasha meeting held; guests visit

Lucille Martin covers the Pontoon Beach scene for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 891-0771.

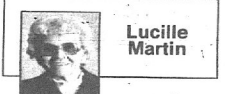

Members of the Pontoon Baptist Church held their Locasha meeting on Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Krause.

Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph (Juanita) Craycraft, Mr. and Mrs. Gary (Barbara) Chaney and Mr. and Mrs. Harlin (Maggie) Luffman after the meeting.

Don and Linda Boswell had as weekend guests their son, Joe, and their daughter, Kelly, both from Rex, Ga.

Kelly was accompanied by her fiancé, Tim Emmerson, who is stationed with the U.S. Army at Fort Campbell, Ky. Emmerson is scheduled to leave this week for Saudi Arabia.

Other guests at the Boswell residence included a sister, Lavonne Green, and a niece, Carolyn Green, and her sons, Ryan and Kyle, of Wentzville, Mo.

Lucille Martin

Mr. and Mrs. George (Louise) Haynes Sr. had as guests last week their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Bonnie) Haynes and daughters, Jones and Jennifer, of North Augusta, S.C.

The local couple accompanied the Richard Haynes to Moresville, Ind., where they visited another son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. David (Pauletta) Haynes and daughters, Amanda and Alice.

While in Moresville, George and Louise Haynes Sr. celebrated their 36th wedding anniversary and George's 56th birthday.

Anniversary noted for Abbotts

A surprise dinner was held at Bethesda Baptist Church, 3035 Nameoki Drive, in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. Luther Abbott who were marking their 15th anniversary at the church. It is the minister's first pastorate.

At the Sept. 8 dinner, Abbott was presented with a Scofield loose-leaf reference Bible and his wife, Ann, was presented with a dozen long-stemmed red roses.

Most of the time after dinner was spent sharing experiences and reminiscing about the past 15 years.

More than 70 persons attending later enjoyed homemade ice cream and outdoor games.

Rev. Abbott is a bi-vocational pastor. He is also a supervisor at Gaylor Container in St. Louis, where he has been employed for 34 years.

When asked about the longevity of his pastorate and the job at Gaylor Container, Abbott replied, "I'm just not one that moves around much."

"These people are like my family. When they hurt, I hurt."

Luther Abbotts
of Bethesda Baptist

When they have a problem, I feel for them. You cannot help but feel any other way after serving as pastor here for that long a time," Abbott said.

The Abbotts 15th anniversary year at the church was on Aug. 31.

Memorial Mass at St. Louis church

The Philippines Women's Auxiliary of the Philippine Medical Association (PMA) of Greater St. Louis is sponsoring a Memorial/Thanksgiving Mass on Sunday, Oct. 14, at 11 a.m. at the Shrine of St. Joseph, 11th and Biddle streets, St. Louis, for victims of the earthquake that swept the islands in July.

There will be a Philippine-style procession preceding the Mass with PMA members carrying a statue of the Holy Rosary of the Philippines.

The statue is an exact replica of the original that dates back to the 1800s. It formerly stood in the University of Santa Thomas and now is at the Church of San Antonio in Manila.

Concelebrants will be the Rev. Ernie Arceo and Father Mon, who is in his last year of theology at St. Louis University.

EAT DRINK AND BE BURIED

Go ahead. Live it up while you can. Eat anything and everything you want, from those processed meats to fatty dairy products to that extra measure of salt. But do it soon. Because poor eating habits can lead to high blood cholesterol, which can result in clogged arteries, a damaged heart, and an early death. The American Heart Association urges you to eat sensibly. Avoid food high in fat, salt and cholesterol. Avoid eating too much. It could keep you from an early grave and let you live it up a little longer.

Rotary looking for exchange members

Applicants for Group Study Exchange team membership are being sought by the Granite City Rotary Club, according to coordinator Rich Suess.

The Group Study Exchange Program of The Rotary Foundation of Rotary International is an educational activity that promotes international understanding through organized travel and person-to-person contact.

The program provides travel grants for teams of young professionals to exchange visits between paired areas in different countries.

Team members study the institutions and ways of life in each other's countries, develop personal acquaintances and exchange ideas.

During their time abroad, Group Study Exchange teams are expected to travel with a sense of mission, sharing personal knowledge of their own country with those they meet and observing the customs, vocations and lifestyles of the country they are visiting.

While visiting the paired district, each team follows a carefully planned itinerary. Team members visit government and legal institutions, schools and colleges and historical and scenic points of interest.

They observe social practices and participate in religious, cultural and recreational activities. Each team member also spends five days studying his or her profession or related activities in the host district.

Where possible, accommodations are in local homes, thus allowing team members to personally experience family life-styles in their host countries. Suess said a Group Study Exchange team will consist of: four non-Rotarian business or professional people and a Rotarian team leader and his or her spouse.

A district will select a team composed of two men and two women.

Applicants for team membership:

- Must be between 25 and 35 inclusive at the time of application;

- Must have been employed full time in a recognized business or profession for at least two years at the time of application;

- Must be citizens of the country in which they reside and must either reside or be employed in the sending Rotary district;

- Should have some proficiency in the language of the country about to be visited;

- Must be exemplary in their business or professional attitudes, enthusiastic about their vocations, and capable of deriving maximum educational value from the program;

- Must be personable, cooperative, articulate, and well-informed about their own vocations; and

- Must be willing and able to speak at Rotary clubs and other organizations both in the host area and upon return home.

The following are ineligible for Group Study Exchange team membership or for any award granted by The Rotary Foundation of Rotary International:

Rotarians, their parents, children, grandchildren, grandparents and spouses; and any Rotary employee.

For each team member, The Rotary Foundation provides a round-trip air ticket or covers the cost of round-trip air transportation determined to be the most economical.

Local Rotarians in the host area provide for meals, lodging and group travel in their district. Each team member is responsible for all personal and incidental expenses incurred before and during the study tour.

Interested applicants for Group Study Exchange team membership should first contact a local Rotary club for information about the local district's plans.

Call Rich Suess, Granite City Rotary Club, GSE chairman, at 877-5483 by Oct. 15, 1990. The team will leave April 6, 1991, and return May 17, 1991. They will be going to Buenos Aires in Argentina.

Obituaries

Donjoian

George William Donjoian, 52, of Granite City, died at 3:10 a.m. today (Thursday, Oct. 11, 1990) at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He had been hospitalized for five days after suffering a stroke.

Mr. Donjoian was born on Oct. 21, 1937, in Granite City. He had retired from Los Angeles City Schools and Sun Valley Junior High School, where he was a teacher for 23 years.

Mr. Donjoian was a member of Holy Shoghagat Armenian Church in Belleville. Among the survivors are his father, Toros Donjoian of Memphis, Tenn.; four sisters, Mrs. Arthur (Vikki) Bedeian of Memphis, Mrs. Larry (Nikki) Reed of Lake St. Louis, Mo., Margaret Donjoian of Memphis, and Iris Donjoian of Irvine, Calif.; and 11 nieces and nephews.

Mr. Donjoian was preceded in death by his mother, Araxie Donjoian, and one sister, Claire.

Arrangements are pending at Irwin Chapel, 3960 Maryville Road, 331-8000.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations to Holy Shoghagat Armenian Church, 400 Huntwood Drive, Belleville, Ill. 62221.

Thompson

Frances M. (Aday) Thompson, 55, of Washington Park died at her home at 9:45 a.m. Monday, Oct. 8, 1990.

Mrs. Thompson was born Dec. 7, 1934, in Hickman, Ky. She was a homemaker.

Survivors include her husband, Sidney Thompson; four sons, Darrell Rivoire of Collinsville, William Thompson of Belleville, Sidney Lee Thompson of Granite City and David Thompson of Washington Park; five daughters, Linda Jablonski, Washington Park, Debra Adams of Cahokia, Rosemary Dalaple of Hollywood Heights, Gloria O'Harrow of Granite City and Lucille Marshall of Caseyville; two brothers, Jerry Aday of Collinsville and Vester Aday of Ellington, Mo.; one sister, Opal Adams of DuQuoin, Ill.; and many grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by two sons, Joe Rivoire and Mike Thompson, and one daughter, Clarence and Evcar (Junior) Aday.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Her Funeral Home in Caseyville, with the Rev. Ralph Dollar officiating. Burial was at Lake View Memorial Gardens, Belleville.

St. Clair County clears voter rolls

By David Migoya
Staff writer

BELLEVILLE — Nearly 16,000 names were purged from St. Clair County registered voter rolls following a three-month re-identification project by County Clerk Janice Delaney.

Included in the purged names were more than two dozen dead people still listed as registered voters, Delaney said Wednesday.

More than 106,000 people are registered to vote by the St. Clair County Election Commission.

"We try to clear the rolls every couple of years and everyone in the county gets a new identification card," Delaney said.

Because a recent investigation revealed nearly 300 dead people were still on East St. Louis' voter rolls, Delaney said, she double-checked county death certificates dating back to 1982.

"We went back through them in case we missed anything," she said.

No votes were cast in the name of any of the still-registered dead people, Delaney said.

When a death certificate is registered with the county, procedures call for the name to be cross-checked against voter rolls, Delaney said.

"You get to the point where you check and sometimes you miss a month," she said. "They were simply overlooked."

The $25,000 re-identification process, which began in June, revealed 15,985 registered voters no longer were eligible to vote. The reasons varied from a change of address to failure to re-register under a married name.

Delaney's office mailed thousands of new voter identification cards to voters. If the card couldn't be delivered, the post office would return the card. Instructions were given not to destroy the card to a new address.

However, Delaney admits that dead people only are purged from the rolls if the death occurred in the county or when a family member would notify the election commission.

"You do your best to do what you can to prevent this from occurring, but you can't get those intent on committing voter fraud," she said. "We depend on the public to do their job, to inform us if someone has moved or is deceased."

Delaney said that if a person is questioned about the validity of his or her vote, her office can send a "show-cause notice" which requires proof of identification.

"If there's any question about someone's ability to vote in a polling place, including the possibility of someone voting for a deceased person, we would send the notice," she said.

Delaney said she has never had any problem with someone voting under a deceased person's name.

"I've never had occasion for it to happen," she said. "And I pray that it doesn't happen."

The last day to register for the upcoming election was Tuesday, St. Clair and East St. Louis voter rolls are maintained by separate election officials.

Pupils. Some of the students already have written to servicemen in the Middle East and others are planning to send letters, Ronney said.

Yellow ribbons of support also have been tied on trees around the school on Johnson Road, the teacher said.

"We would like to invite all Granite Citizens to participate in the project," Ronney said.

"This will be an ongoing project while Operation Desert Shield exists. We could also use some strong boxes and strapping tape to send the items," she added.

Any local soldier serving in Operation Desert Shield may have the donated items sent for distribution to his or her unit.

The serviceman's name, rank, serial number and APO or FPO address should be marked to the attention of Principal Don Kopp and sent or taken to: Frohardt School, 2040 Johnson Road, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

No indictment in shooting of Alton man

ALTON — A grand jury has refused to vote a murder indictment against a Madison man who allegedly fatally shot an Alton man in late August.

Authorities originally charged James Wendell Willis Sr., 38, of Greiner Homes, Madison, with unlawful use of a weapon by felon after the shooting in the 900 block of Highland Avenue.

He was released from jail after posting bond Sept. 9.

Alton police applied to the Madison County State's Attorney's Office for a murder warrant after the victim, Marvin Porter, 36, died at Alton Memorial Hospital on Sept. 18 of complications from the gunshot wound.

Funeral services

Area deaths reported in this week's Sunday and Wednesday newspapers include:

BARTLETS, Julie D., 70, of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, died at 11 a.m. Monday, Oct. 8, 1990, at his home. His remains were cremated. Memorial services were held at 11 a.m. today at St. Peter Church, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard, Granite City, by the Rev. Roy Grebel. Arrangements were made by Davis Funeral Home, Granite City.

BATEY, Robert Joe, 28, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., died Friday, Oct. 5, 1990, in his home. Visitation was held Tuesday at Freeman Mortuary in Jefferson City, Mo., where funeral services immediately followed.

BAVER, Bonnie M., 85, of Granite City died at 8:50 p.m. Monday, Oct. 8, 1990, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Visitation was held Wednesday at Werner Chapel for Funerals, Pontoon Beach, where the Rev. Allen Reiter conducted funeral services at 10 a.m. today. Burial was at Sunset Hill Memorial Estates near Edwardsville. Memorials may be made to St. John United Church of Christ, Granite City.

BECK, Bert William "Bill" Jr., 48, of Granite City died suddenly at 1:59 a.m. Monday, Oct. 8, 1990, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. As of Wednesday morning, pledges for this year included $10,472 from BAC faculty, staff and administration and $28,275 from the Granite City, Red Bud and Belleville campus areas, O'Dell said.

There were several sizable contributions from individuals and businesses, including a $10,000 endowment for a music scholarship from John and Carol Bartle in honor of their mother, Mildred.

A $5,000 endowment was received from the Granite City archbishop from BAC President Joe Cipri and his wife, Linda.

Even in August, some foundation members said they probably wouldn't have much of a problem in reaching the $50,000 goal.

"We were pretty conservative when we set the goal of $50,000," said William Badgley, Magna Group chairman and chairman of the drive. "Now our goal is to see how high we can go over that goal."

Michael Wilmshier heads the campaign in the Granite City area.

Cipri said he was delighted with the drive's big start.

"We're extremely pleased with the interest and commitment that is being shown by citizens throughout the college district," he said.

The breakfast marked the official kickoff of the fund drive.

volunteers should be finished making calls seeking contributions by the end of this month.

The BAC Foundation has formed several committees, each of which is responsible to raise money in a specific area of the 21,000-square-mile district.

Those who donate to the drive may specify that their money be used for scholarships, fine arts, senior programs, libraries, campus beautification or faculty staff development. Unrestricted gifts are placed in an endowment fund and spent where the need is the greatest.

About 60 people attended the kickoff in the varsity gym at the Belleville Campus.

The morning included a buffet-style breakfast, talks by Badgley and Cipri, and singing and piano playing by jazz musician Jean Kittrell.

Health screenings next week at Wellness Center

GRANITE CITY — St. Elizabeth Medical Center will conduct health screenings on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at the Wellness Center, 2105 Iowa St., from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Cholesterol and blood pressure

Revival to begin here

The Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ, 224 State St., Madison, will hold a revival Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 and Sunday from 1 to 4:30 p.m. There will be old-time gospel singing, prayers and preaching by Evangelist Gene Beck and his wife, accompanied by singers, all from Walnut Ridge, Ark., said Grace Sparks, pastor.

Do it out of respect for the dead. And the living.

No acceptable bids to run golf course

EDWARDSVILLE—No acceptable proposals have been received for a golf course at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville according to David Werner, provost and vice president for academic affairs at the university.

Werner, who chaired an administrative committee asked by President Earl Lazerson to review proposals for a golf course, said the administrative review had been completed and no further action would be taken at this time.

Proposals for an on-campus golf course were accepted until Sept. 17, and the responses had been under review since that time.

Citing rapidly changing economic conditions, Werner said events in the Middle East and the high standards set by the university apparently were the reasons for the lack of acceptable proposals.

Only one formal proposal was received. "We had quality and financial expectations that could not be met in the current market," Werner said.

"We expect to issue another request for proposals when conditions improve."

A request for proposals for development, construction and management of a public, daily-fee, 18-hole golf course on the Edwardsville campus was announced by the university on July 6.

The university has set aside a 300-acre tract of land on the north edge of the campus as the possible site for a golf course. It was proposed that the university would lease the site in return for certain payments and grants for use of the facility.

At the end of the lease period, the course and all improvements would revert to full ownership, control and use by the university.

Walk on Sunday will help feed the hungry

By Martin Richter
 Staff writer

On Sunday, Oct. 14, several hundred people will be pounding the pavement in Belleville in an effort to help fill empty stomachs.

The event is St. Clair CROP Walk 1990. Money raised in the walk will be turned over to Church World Services for distribution to local, national and international hunger-fighting agencies.

One quarter of the money raised will be returned to St. Clair County, where it will be administered by the Catholic Urban Program and St. Clair County Emergency Food Program.

About 425 walkers participated in last year's walk, the fourth held there. The event raised about $16,000, said Advisory Committee Chairman Taylor Braswell of Belleville.

The committee is trying to top that figure this year.

"We're shooting for $18,000," Braswell said. "Last year we were fourth in the state in the number of walkers—that's including Chicago—but we were sixth in the amount of money raised. So we're hoping to do even better this year."

There are a few differences in this year's walk. For one, walkers will have their choice of a 5K or 10K walk, rather than just the 10K as in the past. Also, the walk will begin and end at the same place this year, Althoff High School, eliminating the need to transport walkers back to the starting point.

Registration will be held at Althoff. Walkers will proceed east on West Main Street.

The turnaround point for the 5K walk is 80th Street. 10K walkers will continue to Signal Hill Boulevard and then go south to the turnaround point at Signal Hill Boulevard and Bluff Drive. Walkers will then return to Althoff.

Walkers are needed for the event. For more information or to get a sponsor sheet, persons may call Union United Methodist Church at 33-6375, Cavalry Lutheran Church at 397-4899 or Taylor Braswell at 233-7020.

Gundlach a drive leader for BAC Foundation

Theodore F. Gundlach, president and chief executive officer of T.J. Gundlach Machine Co. in Belleville, has accepted a leadership role in the first formal fund drive planned by the Belleville Area College Foundation.

The drive will seek private gifts which may be designated for scholarship endowments or for a variety of other Foundation funds. The goal for the drive is $50,000.

Gundlach, a Belleville resident, has a long record of service to BAC. He served as president of the college's Board of Trustees in 1976 and was a board member from 1970-76.

"I'm trying to help because I feel strongly that BAC contributes greatly to the culture of the east side of the Mississippi," Gundlach said. "It gives many persons a learning opportunity to improve their positions in life while contributing to both their betterment and the general economy of the area."

As a regional chairman, Gundlach will be working with key business, corporate and community leaders in Belleville.

The theme of the drive is "A Time of Opportunity." Since 1946, Gundlach has served as president and chief operating officer of T.J. Gundlach Machine Co.

WHAT WERE YOU DOING IN 1957?

In 1957 Jack Dempsey and Don Adams formed Granite City Fence Company

In part of a building at 18th and Edison Avenue Granite City Fence began assembling fencing materials that would be erected for home, industry and commercial establishments. The building had been the home of a drug store, then a grocery store and O'Flaherty Plumbing.

At the time Granite City Fence was formed in 1957

- ★ Russia launched their second satellite of the year - this one with a dog on board. Sputnik had been launched earlier in the year.
- ★ Polaroid glasses were in vogue at 3D movies but "The Bridge Over the River Kwai" won the Best Picture Award.
- ★ "Little Orphan Annie" was dropped from the St. Louis Globe Democrat because of too much violence in the comic strip.
- ★ Computer dating was introduced and 30,000,000 Hula Hoops were sold in the nation.

In Granite City in 1957

- ★ Bus service was proposed to replace streetcars.
- ★ Barry Loman was elected President of the Park Board.
- ★ A new annex for drive up service was opened at the Grand Cafe - it was the first drive thru service in Granite City.

Today 33 years after it was formed Granite City Fence installs more chain link industrial and commercial fencing than any other company on the East Side. Industrial concerns, public utilities and golf courses within a hundred mile radius engage the services of the firm. Residential fencing of varied design plays a big part in the business.

We sincerely hope that we've contributed to the growth and betterment of the community, to you and your family. We hope that we may continue to serve you in the years ahead and that you, the community and Granite City Fence may continue to grow together.

Technical schools offer hands-on alternative

By Terry Edelmann
Staff writer

Last of three articles
Technical schools play a big role in the education process. They offer students hands-on education exclusively in their area of interest.

And training from a technical school usually takes less time than comparable training at a community college because of the specificity of the courses. They also often assist their students in job searching.

Afton High School Counselor Pat Duggan says technical schools serve a need for certain students: "They're excellent places for students who want to make something of themselves without all the hurdles of college. They're places for students who want a job without English or history courses."

"Much of what students learn in technical schools they could learn on the job. But at the school they learn the right way to do it," she said.

Completing the curriculum at a technical school affords apother plus. "It allows students to have self-esteem, the sense that they've finished something. They feel more confident when they go for jobs. And they're not as afraid to ask questions," Duggan said.

Commuting To Class

Meacham Park resident LaVania Wagner chose the Missouri School for Doctors' Assistants in Warren Woods because she thought she deserved it.

"I felt I could do better. I needed to do something for myself. Besides, this way I can benefit my family and myself."

Although she was on the honor roll in high school, Wagner never graduated. She took a job cleaning hotel rooms and helped her mother and grandmother at home. But after a few years she knew she should do more. "I was always interested in the medical field, and I thought I'd do best at this kind of school."

Wagner appreciates the fact that she has hands-on training at the school, and it's easy to tell an instructor if you don't understand something.

As a doctor's assistant, Wagner will make more money than she's made before.

"It will be much better. And that gives me confidence," she said.

Confidence is a big item at the school, she added.

"The first three weeks they really get your confidence up.

And a lot of students here need that."

Wagner feels confident enough that she might continue on for her licensed practical nurse (LPN) degree after she graduates and works in a hospital for a while.

Maplewood resident Jenny Sullivan chose the school because she was "tired of school."

"I wanted to go into the medical field and I didn't need any more English or history. Most of my classes in high school were advanced. And I just wanted to spend as little time in school as I could."

Sullivan has finished her class work at the school and is working at a doctor's office. She said her training prepared her well for the work.

"I'm not as nervous as I thought I'd be on the job. They taught me the basics," Sullivan said.

Rick Baber, 20, a Bridgeton resident, recently graduated from Vatterott Education Center in the field of commercial sign painting.

He said the school was the right place for him.

"I went to a community college to study art. It was supposed to be good for that but all we did was read about it."

Baber dropped out to work, but heard about Vatterott a short time later. He signed up for the 11-month commercial sign-painting course. A recent graduate, he's in business for himself and doing fine.

"I'm having a ball," he said.

Billy Barnes, a recent Ritenour High School grad, completed Vatterott's microcomputer repair program and is already employed in the field.

Barnes said he never really wanted to go anywhere but a technical school.

"I just wanted the hands-on training. You can't get that in college or anywhere else."

Doug Hoops, who graduated from Hazelwood West last year, said he chose Vatterott because he liked to be busy.

"I like to have something to do. I was bored with studying."

Hoops, who is in the school's heating and air conditioning repair program, said he likes to work with his hands.

"I don't like pushing a pencil."

John Vatterott, owner and president of Vatterott Education Centers, said his schools' mission is direct and to the point.

"I tell our students that we're a necessary evil to getting a job," Vatterott said. "Sometimes it's hard for high school kids to look any farther ahead than 24-hour night."

"We try to tell them that, if they can fix something, they can survive."

Laurie Vander Velde, who with husband Michael administers the Missouri School for Doctors Assistants, says a lot of her students have had negative high school experiences.

"We work a lot on positive mental attitudes," she said.

"And the results are worth it. I'll never forget one of my students, Laurie. She was so excited on her graduation day. She said she had never finished anything before."

SLUH brings offense to Homecoming

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

The Homecoming football game at Memorial Stadium on Friday could be filled with offense.

The Warriors (4-2) will try to get back on the winning track against the St. Louis University High Junior Billikens (5-1) in a 7:30 p.m. game. Granite City has a two-game losing streak and would need to win two of its last three games for a 6-3 record and an outside shot at the playoffs. The mediocre records of the teams Granite City has beaten won't help when playoff spots are considered, so a win over SLUH would be a big boost.

Southwestern Conference championship hopes are all-but dashed since East St. Louis doesn't figure to lose either of its remaining league games (Alton and Collinsville). But the Warriors can still make their bid for the playoffs, or at least a winning record.

Still, that won't be easy. They have tough road dates at Alton and Belleville East following the SLUH matchup, which is the last home game of the season. And Junior Bills coach Gary Kornfeld thinks it will be an entertaining game.

"That Granite City offense scares us," said Kornfeld, whose team is ranked fourth in the Journal-Radio school poll after a 30-20 win over CBC at Busch Stadium last Friday. "We don't have anyone like Larry Curry (6-4, 230). They play power football and then Bobby Thomas can hurt you with his throwing. And we sure don't have anyone on defense with the size of a Gary Tipton or a Larry Earney."

SLUH has relied on offense this year, and will be going against a Warrior defense which has allowed only two second-half touchdowns all year. Junior quarterback Steve Schnur has thrown for more yards (1,057) than anyone in the area other than East St. Louis. DeAndre Singleton. Schnur led the SLUH offense last year in a 31-0 win over the Warriors. This year he's 65 of 117 (56 percent) with eight touchdowns and only two interceptions.

His main targets are Jason Dulick (15 catches, 370 yards, 6 TD) and Scott Pfeiffer (22 catches, 341 yards). Phil Hoehn and Brian Holley are also dangerous receivers. Ed Hurley (633 yards, 70 yards per carry) and Jesse Motton lead the running game. SLUH has a balanced offense with 1,057 yards passing and 1,029 on the ground. Dulick also has six interceptions on defense.

"Offense has kept us winning," said Kornfeld. "It's been a different kid each game who has been a hero. And it's been a bit of a culture shock for the people over here. We've won games with defense for many years."

And that has kept things exciting. The Junior Bills lost a 37-35 game to Belleville East earlier this year in a game filled with lead changes.

"We could give up 20 points real quick and score 30 just as quick," Kornfeld said. "We don't have any burners on offense and our line doesn't have any gladiators, but we get the job done."

Mike Vaughn leads the Warrior running game with 379 yards on 78 carries and five touchdowns, and Thomas is putting together a fine season. He's only thrown 47 passes in six games, but has completed 31 of them (66 percent) for 410 yards and four touchdowns. He's also thrown only two interceptions.

Senior tight end Mike Nordstrom has 11 catches for 101 yards and is 13 for 13 on extra points with a 32.6-yard punting average. Senior tight end Erik Lewis caught two touchdowns passes in the 21-14 loss to Edwardsville last Friday.

"SLUH is awfully quick and they do have some big people," said Warrior coach Tom Wyrostek. "We just have to quit making mistakes because we're playing some good teams."

"We feel pretty good about where we are, but we can't rest on our laurels," said Kornfeld. "We're running into a hungry team. Granite City has lost the last couple of games, it's Homecoming and it's their last home game. I just hope we can give them a good battle."

After the Granite City game, SLUH will enter district play. In Missouri, the last three regular-season games determine playoff spots. The Junior Bills have Riverview Gardens, McCluer North and mighty Hazelwood East on the horizon, so this week is the final tuneup before the "pre-playoffs" start.

NOTES: Friday's game can be heard on a tape-delayed basis on WGNM-AM (920) at 10 p.m. Friday.

Golfers blanked in wet sectional

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

BELEVILLE — Talk about a dreary way to end a season. The Warrior golf team closed out the campaign by taking 11th place in the 12-team Belleville Sectional on Tuesday at a rainy and cold Clinton Hills Country Club. Granite City shot a 373.

Quincy was the sectional champion with a 327. Also advancing to state were Springfield High (333) and Belleville West (334). Quinn McClure of Mt. Vernon and Jason Enloe of Mt. Zion were the medalists as each shot a 76. Joining McClure and Enloe in advancing to this weekend's state meet in Danville were Collinsville's Mike Mason (77), Belleville West's Bob Blackston (78) and Greg Louvier (80). Quincy's Chris O'Connell (80), Ryan Graff (81) and Tony Carnivale (81), Jacksonville's Bobby Sims (77), Edwardsville's John Droste (82), Decatur MacArthur's Mark Burlington (81) and Springfield's Scott Glisson (82).

The Warriors had three strikes against them entering the sectional. First, the weather was bad and strong winds wreaked havoc with the course. Second, the meet was moved from St. Clair Country Club to Clinton Hills, a course that has plagued Granite City all year. Third, the Warriors knew going in they would have to beat either Quincy or Belleville West to advance to state.

It just wasn't to be. Only one Warrior, Joe Brewer, broke 90 as he shot an 89. It all added up to an undeserving end to a 15-5 season.

"It was a dismal, miserable day, kind of like the worst of all Scottish days," said coach Russ Chappell, comparing the day's events to the traditionally inclement weather on Scotland's golf courses.

Chappell could not be upset with his players, however. "We were pleasantly surprised with the season."

"We had a much better year than we expected," he said. "We thought we'd be around 500, but we far exceeded that. The kids came together and worked as a team."

Spikers finish sweep of Alton

By Brian Henry

GRANITE CITY — The Warrior volleyball team completed a season sweep of Alton on Tuesday with a 15-5, 15-9 win over the Redbirds at Memorial Gymnasium.

Granite City (3-13) heading into Wednesday's match in Roxana had an easy time with the Redwings (1-16) in the first game, taking a 6-1 lead and never looking back. All six starters scored, with junior Karen Sykes getting five points to lead the way.

"We have to continue to work hard," said coach Wilma Schulze, filling in for the hospitalized Natalie Buster. "We have to learn to keep the pressure on. It's the hesitating that hurts us."

Alton made a better showing in the second game, taking a 3-0 lead and the Wings were as close as 9-7 before the Warriors finished with a 6-2 spurt. Jennifer Worthington led Granite City with seven points on the night, including five in the second game.

TOURNEY TITLISTS: The first-place trophy from the 10th annual Peps-Cola/Granite City High School/Patriot Tournament of Champions is in the possession of Warrior soccer players (left to right) Larry Strader, Skip Birdsong, Tim Henson, Pat Rich and Jeff Stephens. Henson was the tournament MVP and the other four are team captains. Tuesday's game at Belleville West was rained out and will be made up Saturday in a 10 a.m. game at the Gauntlett in what amounts to a varsity double-header. A JV game will follow, then the Warriors and Maroons will play their regular varsity game at approximately 2 p.m. Wednesday's home game with Alton was also postponed and will be played Tuesday (JV 5:30).

Winless Trojans hope for best vs. Freeburg

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

MADISON — At first glance, there isn't much hope for the Trojans this week. But there's always a chance.

Following a 46-0 loss at Red Bud last week, the Trojans (0-5) will try to regroup for their Homecoming game tomorrow against Freeburg (6-1). But the task will be anything but easy.

"We shouldn't even be playing a team like Freeburg," Madison coach Don Smith said. "They're much bigger than us in size and in student body. It'll be a chore for our kids to control the line of scrimmage. They have some horses up front and a few big people carrying the ball out of the backfield."

But the Trojans might just catch a lucky break against the Midgets. Freeburg is coming off

Area's best pin average 'nothing new' for Huniak

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Dave Huniak has devoted his soul to bowling.

An 18-year veteran of the game, Huniak's strong work ethic paid off this year when his 237 average was rated the best in the entire St. Louis area. But he doesn't exactly brag about it.

"This is nothing new," Huniak said. "I've had a 230 average four times during my career. It's just a matter of concentration and confidence."

Huniak, who bowls in the Tuesday Men's League and the Wednesday Independent League at Granite City Bowl, practices one to two hours a week. But Huniak is living in the real world. While many might consider his 237 average a definite eye-catcher for the pro bowlers tour, Huniak realizes that playing in an in-house league gives the average bowler a huge advantage.

Tennis sectional Saturday

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — The Warrior tennis team will enter sectional play this weekend with a good chance to send at least three players to state.

Granite City has a No. 3 seed in doubles with the senior duo of Addie Lenzi and Hollie Taylor, while senior Kristi Holsinger is the No. 4 seed in the singles bracket. Nikki Petrucci, although unseeded, also has a better-than-average chance at advancing to the semifinals, but she would probably have to play No. 3 seed Diane Buescher of Marquette.

The top four in both singles and doubles will advance to the state tournament Oct. 18-20 in Mt. Prospect.

"I feel we got a very good draw," said Warrior coach Allen Lobdell after Wednesday night's seeding meeting. "I figured that Addie and Hollie, and Kristi would be where to go, but we were also able to get a good draw for Kristi. She's a tough little player and she has a decent chance. We're going to possibly sending four players to state. That would be a great accomplishment."

Becky Kane of Belleville Alt (25-3) has 111 career wins and is the top seed. Teammate Kate Himstedt is the No. 2 seed.

"Kane has singles all but wrapped up," said Lobdell. "Himstedt is a good singles player as well. Those two have to make Allright (the team) favorite coming in."

Amy and Sarah Hazen of Wood River are the top doubles seed, with Allright's Missy Malter and Melissa Siskman second. For the Warriors, Holsinger has beaten six of the seven players in her draw. Lenzi and Taylor don't figure to be challenged until the quarterfinals, when they face Olivia Voils and Jessica Kaucheczy of Marquette. Holsinger could then face Kane in the semifinals, while Lenzi and Taylor might face Malter and Siskman in the semis.

Granite City's other entry, the doubles team of Jennifer Hill and Amy Isenburg, will open against the No. 4 seed from Marquette.

Singles and doubles play begins at 8 a.m. Saturday at the high school courts (singles) and Wilson Park (doubles).

Crazy times for hoops phenoms

The man-child is pestered, bothered, harassed. Each day's mail brings another letter. Each ring of the phone another reminder. They're out there. Waiting.

It's not bad enough that your congressman acts that way during election years. Now, college recruiters are doing it, too.

"It gets old after a while," the man-child admits about the orgy of attention.

Fortunately, the end is near. At least for college basketball recruits. The rest of us will have to put up with congress through next month's election.

Mid-week marks the end of home visits by college coaches. After that, recruits face another month of telephone calls from coaches before they finally hit the NCAA-mandated "quiet" period in mid-November. But at least the nightmarish possibility of walking into the family living room and finding Norm Stewart with his shirt pulled up showing off his scars to your dad, or, worse, Lou Henson trying to sweet talk your mom. Well, those days are rapidly drawing to a close for recruits.

The next sound you hear will be a sigh of relief from recruits, their parents and their high school coaches.

"I'm glad I went through it, and I'm glad it's almost over," says Scott Highmark, a slick 6-4 senior guard from Parkway West.

Highmark isn't certain what exactly he's going to do about the recruiting swirl. He only knows he's going to do something soon.

"I'm pretty sure I'm going to sign early," he says.

This is a good year for high school basketball talent in the St. Louis area. Division coaches are swarming. Highmark is one of the reasons. His coach, Bill Sodemann, estimates Highmark has been recruited by 50, 60, maybe 70 schools. The numbers are hard to keep track of after a point.

Highmark's decision won't be an easy one. But it could be worse. Julian Winfield, a 6-4 point guard of unusual talent from Cardinal Ritter College Prep, is on the A list of recruits for something like 200 schools. You would think recruits at the franking privilege at the rate they're bombarding Winfield's home and school with letters.

"When we started I got up folders (for recruiting letters) for each of the kids. I've got six binders for Julian now," says Ritter Coach Preston Thomas. "He's heard from every conference, and he's heard from at least three-quarters of the schools in those conferences."

Winfield has a bit of an edge in the recruiting game. His father, Lee, is a longtime assistant coach at St. Louis University.

Ironically, as tough as it is to say no, deciding who to say yes to is even more difficult. Thomas advises his players — Winfield is one of several Ritter players drawing recruiters' attention — that the process grows easier as their questions to recruiters grow tougher on points like graduation rates and coaches' ambitions and contract status.

"This is a business and you must take a business approach to it," Thomas says. "At some point, you have to be realistic."

Odd that somebody finally would think to link realism and college athletics. Sort of refreshing, isn't it?

Co-ed volleyball leagues forming

Adults interested in co-ed volleyball should contact Ray Hoffman, recreation supervisor, at the Wilson Park office.

Leagues are being formed to be played at the Lincoln Place Community Center and Coolidge Junior High School beginning in late October. For more information, call the park office at 877-3059.

QCSA schedules chicken/beer dance

The Quad-Cities Soccer Association will hold a chicken and beer dance on Oct. 12.

The dance will run from 7:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Knight of Columbus Hall, 4220 Old Alton Road in Granite City. Chicken will be served at 7:30, with dancing beginning at 8:30. Music will be provided by "Touch of Class."

Tickets are $9 per person.

Huniak

"Unlike the PBA, the average bowler is always bowling on the same lanes," he said. "That gives someone the opportunity to experiment and know where to play his shots. On the other hand, the professional bowler must make adjustments every week. Experimenting at that level will cost you a lot of pins in the long run. You can't afford a bad game. You almost have to average five strikes a game to be successful."

Registering strikes is nothing new to Huniak. The Granite City native has racked up 12 perfect games during his career.

"I've been fortunate," Huniak said, "I never take anything for granted. I've struggled on some nights, but I always make it a point to hear down. I always make it a point to finish on a high note. And if I feel my game slipping a bit, I just work a little harder in practice."

"Bowling is much like golf or hunting. You go to a new ball like you would using a new set of clubs in golf or a new gun in hunting."

Huniak's attitude has rubbed off on the younger set. He's worked with the junior leagues the last two years, but his job at Granite City Steel has cut into his time.

"I enjoy working with the kids," Huniak said. "Unfortunately, I've been forced to work a lot on the weekends and it's pulled me away a little bit. I like working with the kids because it allows me to give something to the game. And the dedicated kids have responded to my advice."

"I try to keep everything basic. I prefer to work with kids between the ages of 13-17. I don't believe in starting a kid out too young, because they'll eventually get burned out. I always tell the kids to play whatever sport is in season. (Bowling) is a challenging sport and I'm glad to share my experience with the kids."

Warrior finishers were separated by only seven strokes Tuesday indicative of the parity on this year's squad. Following Brewer were sophomore Gabe Mitchell (99), and seniors Allen Ledbetter (95) and Bill McCormick (96).

The team loses five seniors but has a good nucleus returning in Brewer, Mitchell and Steve Rains.

"We have a good threesome coming back and some promising players at the freshman and sophomore levels," Chappell said.

Freeburg the last two years."

Last year the Midgets scored early and often in blasting Madison 54-6. The Trojans were held to 25 yards of offense in that game. The Trojans will enter Friday's game having not scored a touchdown in 14 quarters. Their last touchdown came against Columbia in a 63-6 loss on Sept. 7 when Tony Treadway scored on a one-yard run with 7:10 to play in the second quarter. For the season, Madison has been outscored 180-18.

a disappointing 18-15 loss to Dupo in a Cahokia Conference showdown. Searching for their first conference championship in four years, the Midgets produced one of their poorest efforts of the year and lost their chance of winning the conference outright.

"Hopefully, that loss to Dupo has taken a little bit of wind out of their sails," Smith said. "We'll need every break we can get in this game. We've really taken it on the chin against

Schulze, who has been with the varsity a little more than a week, offered some answers to the season-long problems.

"We've given up too many
